Columbia Excursion. The excursion of the Columbia Fire Company to Luna Park yesterday and last night was a success in every particular, many friends of the company having visited the resort and enjoyed its numerous features. The evening trains carried large crowds and it was after midnight before all the excursionists returned to their homes. There was nothing to mar the enjoyment of any one save the discomfort incident to the reembarking for home, which is generally the feature to be dreaded, especially it the weather is threatening or rainy. The railway company has no accommodations for the many Alexandria patrons of Luna Park, and they are often kept standing at the foot of the hill without shelter awaiting the coming of south bound trains. Cars for the accommoda-tion of Washingtonians stand on the hill in front of the park entrance, and when-ever such visitors are inclined to return home trains are ready for them. People from this city, however, are still com-pelled to descend the uill and stand and wait. It occasionally rains when trains tarcy, and ladies and children vainly attempt to escape from the elements, unaccommodations consist of a pile of ties between the tracks. Luna Park, or more properly Four-mile run, is now the most important station on the road, and that something savoring of a station is passing strange.

Looking to the Virginia Side

The movement on the part of the Washington business community to insince manufacturers to locate in and about the capital city has naturally directed the attention of parties juter ested in manufactories to the south side of the Potomac. A writer in a Washington paper makes the following sensiobservations:

"On the Virginia side of the Potomac river, just opposite Washington, ties the ideal place for factories, storehouses, wholesale markets, &c., with a fine water front and railway (scilities unsurpassed. But few in this city, I am sure, spent in the past two or three years, and the large amount of work done between here and Alexandria by the railroads in increasing their facilities for business.

I have often remarked in driving in from my country home, near Arlington that a few years would see the level lands cordering on the Potomac river alive with factories of various kinds, which seems to be a natural place for them.

A Steamer Sunk.

The steamer Pokanoket, of the Peters burg, Norfolk and Newport News Nav-igation Company, was sunk in about 10 feet of water at her wharf at Petersburg at an early hour yesterday morning by some one who opened her seacocks, c.using the flooding of the hold and the submerging of the lower deck. Julian Galloway, a colored firemen, on duty at the time, was arrested on su-picion, there being considerable circumstantial evi-dence against him. The seamer had on all her cargo and was ready for her regular trip down the Appointtox yester-day, when the crew turned in Wednesday Shortly atter 3 o'clock Captain Craddock was an used and gave the alarm and list summer ran between Washington, Alexandria and Colonial Beach.

Machen and Mr. S. G. Brent, Common-wealth's Attorney, conducted the prose-cution. Lewis's injury was not of a serious nature.

The Dog Nuisance.

An item in this column a day or two ago called attention to the complaints of people living in the extreme southwest-ern section of the city of the dog nuisance. After dark the canines begin to move, howl and fight and continue to do s) throughout the night. Numbers of persons find sleep impossible under prevailing conditions. Many worthless curs it is safe to say licenses are not paid upon a large percentage of them. The police should begin an investigation at once, and the owners of unlicensed dogs should be fined and ownersed to unlicensed dogs. should be fined and ownerless canines be disposed of in some way.

Proposed New Steamer.

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, as heretofore stated, is contemplating the building of another iron fireproof steamer. The new steamer will be a deep draft propeller for night service on the route to Norfolk. She will be constructed entirely of iron, staterooms and all, and will be very tast. The matter will be taken up by the directors of the company within the next few weeks, and the order, if decided upon, will be placed for the boat so that she will be ready for service during next
